NodeZero's unlimited, on-demand subscription allows you to continuously verify your security posture and the built-in verification feature lets you rerun pentests to check your fixes.

- CIO, Construction

[Horizon3 NodeZero] is crystal clear and accurate. As security practitioners, we all have very limited resources. Being able to employ those as effectively as possible will allow us to secure our environment or keep it secure most rapidly, and Horizon3 does that near flawlessly, better than any solution that I am aware of.

- Director of IT security, Manufacturing

Anything critical – the team will concentrate on those, get that fixed, and then go back and click verify, which is amazing. To me, that alone, on top of everything that [Horizon3.ai] offers, is priceless. Because it's super-fast, and it's pinpointing exactly what I want to look for. Instead of running a five-day test, I can run [NodeZero] probably within the hour and I can get an answer.

- Director of information security, Entertainment

Horizon3 is one of the exceptional vendors we've worked with in that they provide us the vulnerability or the exploit they found and remediation steps. We're not just getting, 'hey, this part sucks, good luck fixing that.' ... we have the remediation steps in the report as well.
